MONTANA RACING OF 1897.

The Montana racing enterprise is receiving the attention it deserves this winter. The thoroughbred stake display in DAILY RACING FORM is a noble one and the term of racing is full of attraction. The stakes are well built. Ed. Tipton, who manages the Montana tracks, is an intelligent man. Though his reputation was made with the harness racing brigade, the other side of turf contention was always within his view. The intelligence of the racing stake conditions at Anaconda and Butte are evidences of his knowledge of present thoroughbred doings.

Few Eastern people have a full idea of the extent of the Montana turf investment. Nearly $200,000 was spent last spring in equipping the Anaconda and Butte tracks in a modern way. The picture of the new grand stand of the Anaconda course gives some idea of the perfection of the Montana equipment. The buildings at Butte are just as complete and up-to-date. There are commodious betting rugs and paddocks at both tracks and more than comfortable stables around each.

The Montana racing enterprise is in every way worthy of the deep attention of all classes of owners. It is a fixture and of such class, value and duration as to attract the best of both the thoroughbred and harness divisions of American racing.

THE IDEAL PARK STAKES.

Entries to the nineteen stakes of the Ideal Park Racing Association close before another issue of DAILY RACING FORM reaches its readers. Entries to be eligible must be received at the office, 932 Monadnock Building, or be postmarked not later than 12 p. m., Monday, March 1. Advices by mail or wire from prominent horsemen all over the country show that a large number of nominations are en route or will be forwarded before the closing hour. Knowledge of the quality and number of these together with the lists of subscriptions obtained by a personal canvass of stables operating at San Francisco and New Orleans and reports from John W. Kelsey, who is touring the training grounds of Kentucky, Tennessee and Arkansas, form strong basis for the prediction that Ideal Park is to have a season of grand racing—a meeting not to be outclassed by any of the historic sessions of sport that formerly made Chicago the shining center of turf interest. For obvious reasons no definite information as to the stakes can be given until after the date of closing, but all of those interested in the success of Ideal Park may await news announcements with every feeling of gratification that the efforts of the association to place the track in the front rank through liberality and honest methods are certain to be met by hearty responses on the part of horsemen of the best class. It is proposed to beautify the track and improve the plant in many ways before racing begins, and altogether the outlook is highly satisfactory.
